Divine Prosperity by Anael

Part 1 - Giving and Sharing

The basic idea of divine prosperity is to give and share in total reliance upon God knowing in faith that God will bless you and provide for you so that you cannot run out and so that you can give more and more.

The Holy Spirit is the divinity that is within you. When I speak of God, I am talking about the spark of Divine Spirit that is in every human being. God is Love and the way of the Holy Spirit is to give and to share freely to all.

It's really pretty simple in concept, although difficult in practice: give and share and pray for more so that you can give and share some more, and you get more, so you can give away even more. Rely only upon God for all of your needs. Do not look elsewhere because God only has the power to materialize wealth at will. God simply said "Be" and everything that is came into being. God's supply has no limit.

So if you live your life in complete reliance upon God at all times, always giving to those in need, then you start to "become" or embody prosperity and it flows to you naturally. See Part 2 for more on becoming prosperity.

When you give in faith, you receive in abundance. This faith is the way of the Holy Spirit. But the miracles come after you set out in faith. First, you jump off the cliff, then the angels catch you. If you are faithless, just waiting for the angels to lift you up and carry you off of the cliff, you are going to wait a long time. So if you give and give and others take and take, what will happen eventually is that you will be blessed in abundance, and those who just take and take will end up losing what they have. But nobody has to keep track -- it all happens quite naturally in Spirit. Giving is a great blessing that simply must come back to you.

The divine way to abundant prosperity is to call upon the Holy Spirit and to rest in the hand of God, in complete reliance upon Her*, and in total and complete faith that She will provide. If you imagine a spring in the mountain that is fed by a deep underground river. You come to the fountain and drink from it. It does not matter how much water you draw from the spring, the water is replenished by the underground river. So that the more you give, the more comes in to replace it. The supply is endless. This is the miracle of the Holy

* Of course, God is neither a man or woman, but Anael prefers to refer to God as a woman.

Spirit. The more you give, the more that is given to you so that you can give more.

Be careful about falling into the trap of expecting anything in return for giving. The expectation is a trap. The idea is to give with no thought of getting anything in return, but only in complete reliance that God is blessing you with whatever you need and more so that you have more to give. It is about relying upon God only.

What about business? Certainly, we should charge our customers or are we supposed to give away our products and services?

You would have to be very advanced to run a business on these principles, but it can be done. Certainly, if you have invested your own labor or capital into something, you should receive a return. The business principles of getting a return on investment is really an aspect of this teaching. When you create value to your customers, you certainly should receive part of that value created. Therefore you can set a price or establish a suggested donation.

If you are creating wealth or value through the power of the Holy Spirit (such as faith healers), you were not charged for that power and you did not invest anything for that, so you should not charge for that service. You are expending time and energy, but if you are becoming a channel for the Holy Spirit, it should be freely given. Those who benefit from that, should express their gratitude by giving a donation. The person who channeled this book did not pay for the information that came through him, although he did expend time and energy writing it and distributing it. He should not charge for this book, but if you receive abundant prosperity as a result of having read and practiced the techniques in this book, you should make a donation. (See the last page of this book).

I am having a difficult time putting these principles into practice. What am I doing wrong?

These are difficult times. The real difficulty is the overwhelming greed and poverty thinking that the world is in, and it creates waves of thoughts that are difficult to overcome. To think giving and prosperity while the world insists upon greed and poverty or scarcity, it is like trying to swim against the current. Very difficult, but not impossible. The persons and businesses who succeed will be the ones who are different from the rest-- the ones burning with the desire to give. It is genuine service and goodwill coming from the heart that brings abundance. So be on the look out and burn with the enthusiastic desire to give to others and opportunities will come. Take them and do not miss your chance. Do not give for any reason other than the happiness of others and God. Serve until it hurts. When blessings come, rejoice in thankfulness and praise!

When I give money to charity, is it wrong to take a tax deduction?

I am an angel and I don't give tax advice! But basically, whatever your motive in giving might be, that will be your reward. If you seek tax deductions, that's all that you will receive. Of course, if you are leveraging your income so that you get tax breaks that enable you to give more to others instead of to the government, then it might be OK to deduct the contributions. But if your giving is done for the purpose of getting tax deductions, it will serve little purpose. I recommend keeping it simple. Just give to others and be thankful for God's bounty. There is not much explanation needed. This is something you just have to do, to try out.

It takes a great deal of faith, to know and to trust that God is in charge of every little thing in your life. But miracles do not come to the doubters sitting on the sidelines. Miracles come to the believers, the ones who are giving their all, without any thought of reward, and who are not sitting around waiting for God to provide them with more stuff before they give. Rather, they simply give and give, with the full knowledge that God will come through.

Should I get a job or should I just trust the Holy Spirit to bless me?

There is nothing wrong with getting a job. It is not even about that. You can demonstrate this with or without a job. You could take a job and still work on your mental blocks (see Part 3) to get the flow of prosperity going, and if you find you don't need the job anymore, then you could just quit. So don't tie the two together necessarily. But whatever you do, you need to be constantly, I mean constantly-- focused on abundance, thanking God for the abundance of wealth that already exists in the world, and being willing to receive it-- expecting it and being grateful for the fact that it is God's pleasure to give you more than what you ask for or need.

Prosperity thinking is really a tough one for most people. Many of the people who have wealth, even, have received it through wrongful actions because their minds are lost in poverty thinking. You must awaken to the fact that poverty is not real-- it is an illusion.

What about my loans? Isn't that taking instead of giving? Should I borrow money to give? Should I pay back my loans before I give?

Debt is not taking unless you don't pay it back. You could borrow money and give it away and that would be giving unless you didn't pay back the money you borrowed. Presumably, you are paying to borrow -- paying interest--so its a transaction nothing more. When you borrow money and do not pay it back or you fall behind, then at that point, you are taking money. So you need to stop the taking (pay back the loan) before you give.

How can I incorporate these ideas into my network marketing business?

First of all, if I did not make the point clear, you need to turn over your life first to the Holy Spirit, that is to the Power and Glory of God which resides within you. Then, everything will fall into place. It seems to me that you need to not only demonstrate in your own life the health and wealth that your business can bring, but in so doing you need to be recounting your blessings in gratitude to God. In other words, share with others how good God has been to you by blessing you with this business. Thank God and give Him praise and gratitude. That praise and that gratitude will powerfully speak to others. This will help open you up to others, it will give you a framework and attitude that brings more blessings, and it will show others that your business might be helpful to them and you will attract the right people. But then you also need to find ways to give selflessly. Fill needs when you see them. As you grow more prosperous, your capacity to help people in need will grow. But start now right where you are.

How do I get started making prosperity in my life?

Start by making lists of everyone and everything you really love in your life. Express and feel gratitude for all the good and all the abundance you do have. Do this every day. Begin to notice what is great in your life. There are amazing miracles all around you all the time. Open your inner eyes. Have deep gratitude and thank God for Her Bounty.

Then invoke the Holy Spirit. Invoke the Angel of Prosperity (see Part 2)

Next, serve and give, and serve and give some more, until it hurts to give. You don't have to completely sacrifice yourself, but you do have to give.

Next, focus on the opportunities for abundance that flow to you and others.

Ignore your own weakness. Focus instead upon the power of God. You have the ability to tap into that power. Pray to God and ask for Her power to flow through to your life. Then give love out in every direction. And open your inner eyes. See the truth behind all appearances. See the miracle that is your life. See how God has already provided abundance. See how God has always met your every need. Her ways are inexplicably GREAT. So few see it. People search for me (God's abundant prosperity) but they don't believe in me. That's why prosperity eludes them.

Ache with the desire to give to others. Want things so you can fill the needs of others. Be greedy not for yourself but to get money for the good of all. Start where you are. Give what you have now what others around you need now. By acting in this way, you slowly realize step by step how to become an endless fountain of giving. You literally become prosperity and abundance.

Prosperity and abundance is more than having a great deal of money. This is having all of the riches of the Kingdom available to you and to others in need around you, whenever you should have need of them. It is reliance upon and surrender to the Lord God.

I am broke. How can I give when I don't have anything?

This is a common question. The answer is to start right where you are. Share what you have. That is all I am saying. Always share what you have, and you will find that you have more to share. Even if you don't have money, you have time and energy. Begin to share it.

Most people are always chasing after wealth. They never do get enough. It seems to them that everybody else seems has more than they do. If you are broke, you probably think that you never can catch a break. Sometimes you manage to earn a little money, but it always slips through your fingers. You are working for your creditors, and they keep demanding more and more but you don't have more. You take money whenever you get the opportunity and wish you could find a way to take more. Please see that this is the way of the world: lack and greed, fear and limitation. People believe they must take what they can, however they can because it's a dog eat dog world. That is the way of poverty-thinking: greed and taking.

What if wealth came to you instead of you having to chase it? What if you always had more than enough? What if you always caught a break? What if money came to you at every opportunity and you kept receiving more and more of it?

That is the way of the Holy Spirit. Abundance and generosity, faith and unlimited prosperity. Give whenever you can, whatever the need. Help everyone in need. Serve more. This is the way of prosperity: generosity, sharing and giving.

But here is the catch: you must give with no thought of reward. Just give and don't worry about the money. Don't worry where it came from and don't worry about where it is going. See the need and give. Fill the needs of others. If you give with true selfless love, the Holy Spirit will provide more for you to give, and you will have an endless supply from the Source of all good. Trust and give it a try!

The first thing you need to do, therefore, is to develop the faith you need to sustain yourself. You must engage with the Holy Spirit. A life of prayer and devotion to God and the voluntary surrender to the Holy Spirit is what is necessary to begin reliance upon God. When you come to realize that your lives are held firmly in the hand of God, that nothing happens outside of Her awareness and control, and that there are no accidents or coincidences at all, you will see your lives for what they are: miraculous and magical journeys. Then rely upon the goodness and mercy of God and simply allow the gifts of the Holy Spirit to enter your life. Realize that the Source of all abundance and prosperity is within your own heart and you do not have to look to anyone or anything outside of yourselves for anything that you need or desire. This will slowly allow the divine flow of abundance and prosperity to enter into your lives. As you receive, you must share with others in selfless love. This ensures that the flow of abundance will continue and grow.

But everybody knows you cannot create something from nothing. We have to be productive and do things. To sit around and pray for money is not productive.

The new energy and value that gets added from selfless giving is the energy of the Holy Spirit. It brings you whatever you need and desire for yourself and your loved ones and to help others. The more selfless work you do, the more the Holy Spirit provides so you can do more work.

It seems this teaching is counter-intuitive. There are limited resources on the planet. If I take them, then I am rich. That's what many would say. I take and I have. You don't take, you don't have. That is the viewpoint of most people, but then most people are not wealthy.

If you take it and hoard it in your cave, its not benefiting anyone. If you invest it somehow, you put it to work for others and by sharing it with others they receive a benefit and so do you. Of course, there is a limit to the wealth because you are selfish about it. If you were to give with the proper energy, the wealth would miraculously increase. If everybody gave to everybody else, constantly receiving and then sharing it with others---there would be a universal increase. Everyone would become more wealthy. Few people are willing to try this. It's the Love method of prosperity. Share and prosper is my motto! It is a divine law. A higher law than the animal law of the jungle. It is not a divine intervention so much as a law that when certain things happen in a certain way, you will get a certain result. If people share in love, they receive more. The sun's shares its light and the more it shares the more fuel it has to burn and create more light. It is inexhaustible almost.

Because it requires unselfish motivation, it cannot be carried into a scientific formula. It is a spiritual teaching. It is the recognition that to give to others is to give to the Self of all persons. The Self has control of everything and can produce whatever wealth it desires. When you give to the Self, you are giving to all selves. The Self gives you what you deserve in return. If you gave with no thought of reward, then you will be rewarded beyond your dreams. That is the paradox of the law. If you sought reward, you might get it but that's all you get, and you will eventually lose it. But when you act for the benefit of others, you find that all others and everything else is working for your benefit.

Part 2 - Invoking the Angel of Prosperity

Now that I have explained my ideas about prosperity, allow me to introduce myself. This book is written by Anael (through a channel). I am the angel of Prosperity. I am an ordinary angel and I help people learn to make true wealth. I usually work with people who are making the transition from greed to generosity. I am their guardian angel.

An angel is nothing more than an individualized aspect of the Holy Spirit, or a quality or attribute of God. Do not be surprised that angels have intelligence because God is Intelligence itself. Most of the religious scriptures of the world religions discuss angels, and have stories of angels speaking with people. I cannot understand why it comes as such a surprise that I am here now speaking to you.

With this little book, I am trying to reach the people who are fed up with working hard to try to get a few material things. Those things end up being empty. They long for something more in their lives. They want to achieve something meaningful. But then they realize they cannot do anything meaningful in their lives because their whole life is consumed by the struggle for living. That is where I come in!

This book is intended to get my message out to many more people. The world is drowning in poverty and I want to send you the lifeboat of my prosperity teachings.

If you invoke me, Anael, the angel of Prosperity, and stop believing in poverty, then I can help you.

I am that aspect of the Holy Spirit that is prosperity and abundance. By invoking me you help to change your thinking around. Most people's minds are so full of thoughts of lack, poverty, and fear that they cannot even entertain the idea of God's prosperity. So those people become poverty. They are hoarding and desperately seeking money out of fear of loss and lack. People who are prosperity-minded are giving and giving, without fear of lack, because they know the Source of their abundance is inexhaustible.

It's not easy at first. Replace the poverty demon with the prosperity angel!

How do you invoke me? Sit quiet in prayer and meditation. Light incense or a candle for me. Talk to me, hear me, let me guide you. Abundance is divine and lack is satanic. So talk to me and try to hear me.

To invoke is to call. Call on me! Give me a call!

Many people have difficulty understanding angels or even accepting our existence. But it does not matter whether you know my name, or if you know that I exist, if you are reaching out with your mind to me, then I will hear and respond. When I respond, people hear me in different ways. This has to do more with human evolution than it does with me. You have to try things and see what works.

I am not comfortable with candles and incense and talking to angels. What can I do?

You don't have to sit down and light a candle and meditate for me. You can contact me any way that you think will work. However, the point is to clear your mind, call on me, and be receptive to hear me. What I do want you to do is to talk to me, and try to hear me. Most people's minds are so full of thoughts of lack, poverty, and fear that they cannot even entertain the idea of God's prosperity. So those people become poverty. But if you can get your thoughts off of that, and remain steadily focused on me, then you will become abundance. You will be a magnet for God's wealth, and then poverty will melt away for you.

If you think of poverty and prosperity as rivers, then it is clear that you need you to first remove yourself from the poverty river and you then need to enter into the prosperity river. You have already become poverty by immersing yourself in thoughts of lack and scarcity. You now must become prosperity by immersing yourself in thoughts of me: God's endless supply and abundance.

If you want this to work, you need to work with me. Invoke me, talk to me, share your plans, and try to listen to me. I love to talk to folks but so few are willing to listen. You have to relax deeply, meditate and shut off all of the thoughts in your mind so that you can hear. If you invoke me, then I am talking back to you, so its just a matter of hearing me.

I realize these teachings are a bit tricky. This is not about giving to the point of being burned out, or having no energy. You need to take care of yourself too and your family, and you need to take it easy. This is not about sacrificing yourself. Its more about SHARING! Giving and receiving are like two sides of the same coin. You cannot have the one without the other. But this is not a mechanical formula. You might give for 10 people who are ungrateful and don't give you anything back, but all of a sudden you find yourself being blessed. At the same time, if you are giving for any reason other than to share and be loving, then God is not going to bless you. You have to become prosperity.

That is, become giving and sharing and loving. When you become that, you turn yourself into a magnet for blessings. But its not all about having money at the bank. Its about RELIANCE UPON GOD. There is nothing else to rely upon. The money can disappear but if you have a flow of bounty from God always coming your way, and flowing through you, then you become a great blessing to yourself and others.

So it is good to be supplicating to God and to be giving. But do not be looking to "manifest" Just look to do your part, which is to give and give and to call upon God's prosperity. Talk to me, and tell me what your concerns are. Who do you want to help that you cannot help? What changes do you need in your life and why?

I am trying this but it is frustrating. It seems like I give but get nothing in return. What am I doing wrong?

You are not doing anything wrong. It takes time to master these teachings. So I want you to take it easy, conserve your energy, enter into a relationship with me and allow the prosperity to flow through you, not just for others, but for yourself too (as long as you don't get selfish about it). Being selfless does not mean that you hurt or deprive yourself. It means you take care of yourself and others. Do not give up. Your are an evolving being and this will take some effort and practice. Like any skill, it takes time to develop.

You need to talk to me. Talk to me, and share with me your plans. But make sure your plans are not selfish. You have to be concerned with helping others. That is key.

What makes angels happy, what makes me happy, is when you love freely-- when you praise God and when you give freely to others. That is beauty.

Part 3 - Overcoming blocks to Prosperity

Whenever a person tries to implement the teachings of divine prosperity, it is almost inevitable that obstacles to success will arise by one of the three major mental blocks against prosperity.

The number one mental block is the idea that "I don't deserve it."

I disagree with that idea. I say that you do deserve it as your divine birthright.

It is possible that you have done some bad things and therefore you believe yourself worthy of punishment. God is not interested in punishing people, to tell you the truth. Realize that God's bounties fall on everyone, the good, the bad, and the ugly. Have you heard the phrase "God is no respecter of persons?" That means, God loves unconditionally, and God blesses all! That is Love. So if you want to get over this block, you need to understand that when you apply the divine prosperity teachings, you are becoming a willing channel for God's blessings in the physical world. Think of it as a channel of water. At first it might be a trickle, but more and more the capacity of the channel increases until it becomes a mighty river flowing with unstoppable power for good. Think of all the people in need of a prosperity miracle! Think of them and not yourself.

Another mental block is the fear of wealth. People fear they will become bad or abuse it if they have too much wealth. They don't think of themselves as wealthy and therefore they fear it.

The real possibility whenever you begin to tap the power of divinity for good is that you might be corrupt and do harm. You must not be corrupt. There are some subtle things you need to understand about this. These teachings are based upon the miraculous power of the Holy Spirit. When it comes to miracles, there are no mechanistic formulas, or scientific techniques. When you invoke divinity, you are placing an order with God. But God is Intelligence and therefore your response will be intelligent. If you are doing a scientific experiment to prove that miracles work, God will most likely refuse your requests. If you are sincerely seeking the good of others, and if what you request is in alignment with the will of God, then God will grant your requests. Sometimes miracles work and sometimes they don't. But you have to be careful, because if you become corrupt, God might still grant your requests but this is as a test to you to see how far you will go, to see how corrupt you are. Be aware that you can always be tested by God, but that is insufficient reason for you not to try to be a miracle worker and to serve God. It just means to be careful.

Another mental block is the belief in lack-- that there is scarcity. There is a limited amount of wealth in the world. There is a pie and everybody is competing for pieces of that pie. This is so completely false. Banish this idea from your mind! The material world was created by God out of nothingness, and God can create anything at all by simply calling it into being. There cannot be lack. There is only God's endless supply and abundance.

Included in this false belief is the idea that it takes time and hard work for wealth to be created, and you need a job, or a business, or a million other limitations that people put on it. These limitations that your minds put on it are self-fulfilling. If you think you need a job in order to buy a car, then that will be true. But it would be easier to invoke me and let me produce it for you. I can do things that you have never thought of, such as making gold appear out of thin air. If you believe it, then it is true. If you refuse to believe, then it won't happen. So maybe you should start believing in bags of gold falling from heaven.

In reality, the physical world is a bunch of swirling energy, and the source of it is in the spiritual worlds above. God literally called the world into being and She is capable of calling anything else into being at any time. True wealth is reliance upon God to produce what you need. Think of this over and over again until you see its truth.

It just takes a bit of time for these gigantic evil thought forms to break up so that physical prosperity can flow. Its like a bunch of ice dams and you are trying to float your boat through it. The ice damns are melting, but they are so big that your boat keeps getting stuck in them. So don't get all frustrated or else its like freezing them up again. But you have to concentrate on prosperity all the time. Focus on it. Breathe it all day. Think of God's abundance flowing all the time to everyone who needs it, for everyone who doesn't have enough.

You have the power to get what you want. Speak with the authority of the Holy Spirit. Stop doubting yourself. Decide what you want and declare it, claim it, demand it, invoke it. If you look at your life right now, it represents your own mixed feeling, your inability to claim what you want (or more like your refusal to claim it). Do not look at the world outside. It is an effect only of thought. Everything that happens, goes on in a higher plane. You don't see the cause. you only see the effects in the world.

How come some people who give are miserable?

Not everybody gives for the right reasons or in the right way. I am talking about giving for the good of all, not for any personal benefit or recognition or even to be a victim, but only to please God. People who give with other motivations, whether it be to gain recognition and approval or to be a victim or to punish themselves out of guilt, or whatever the motivation, they will get their reward --- that is, they will get what they seek. But they will not enter into the miraculous endless supply of the Holy Spirit. When you seek for nothing but the good pleasure of God, then the Holy Spirit grants your heart's desires and makes you an instrument for serving and healing others.

Isn't it bad to have too much wealth?

No, not all. You deserve great abundance. I want you to give, then receive in great abundance, so that you can give to others in great abundance. What could be wrong with that?

All of God's children deserve the great abundance of God. Why not? It is true that you do not deserve wealth to the exclusion of others. That is dead wrong. But you need to see that being wealthy does not mean that others have to be in poverty. It just means you create wealth using the power of the Holy Spirit, and then you have wealth for yourself AND for others. Wealth is God's way. Its OK for you and everyone else to be wealthy. Being wealthy is how you can help people and give to others.

It sometimes seems as if only greedy people have wealth.

There are plenty of greedy people who make a bunch of money. It needs to be understood that God is in control of this universe, but She often chooses to allow people the free will to do as they wish, and to suffer the consequences of their actions.

The difference with what I am teaching, is that you are invoking me-- that is the divine power of prosperity. So this kind of wealth is not subject to corruption, correction, or punishment. This is true wealth. It is difficult, but worth the effort to achieve. What I am teaching is mostly unknown in the world.

What I am teaching is not some get rich quick scheme. It is really a way of life and a spiritual realization of your relationship to the Holy Spirit. To understand prosperity or abundant living, the first thing you need to do is to define the terms. Most people think of prosperity as the accumulation of or hoarding of money. Hoarding money or anything else is nothing more than a manifestation of a faithless acceptance and false belief in lack and poverty. The idea of accumulating possessions to the exclusion of others is the very essence of poverty thinking.

People who live "paycheck to paycheck" are not hoarding anything, but in their minds they hold the belief that there is never enough money. They would hoard it if they had any extra money so they could hoard it. This is why the money eludes them.

Do you have any other advice on how to achieve success with this?

Practice. Get rid of all fear. Just move forward in reliance upon God. Pray and trust God, but be alert to the opportunities that arise and then take action to receive the good that God intends for you. Call upon me and I will answer.

Postscript

This book is freely given without charge to all as part of the Ministry of the Holy Maiden Center of Healing. If you have practiced the techniques of this book, you will find yourself blessed with abundant prosperity.

Once this occurs, there is only one thing to do: GIVE!

Donations are gratefully appreciated by the Holy Maiden Center of Healing, a Church whose mission is to: feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, befriend the stranger, clothe the naked, solace the imprisoned, enrich the poor, raise the fallen, comfort the sorrowful, heal the sick, reassure the fearful, rescue the oppressed, bring hope to the hopeless, and shelter the destitute.
